Ed Jackson, Nominee for Governor Says Every Citizen is Entitled to Protection of Law

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Fourteen delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention were chosen by the state convention today as a compromise slate of ten delegates failed to satisfy the demands of various factions.

Each delegate will have half a vote and alternates will be dispensed with.

The increase was understood to be a move to pacify the Goodrich-Bossert faction.

The four names added to the original ten were James P. Goodrich, Winfield Durbin, Oscar Feulner of Fort Wayne, and Cornelius Richardson, (colored) of Richmond. The original ten delegates are composed of Senator Watson, State chairman Wall, Governor Branch, Henry W. Marshall, Lafayette editor; Former Senator Beveridge, George Lockwood of Muncie, Postmaster General New, Mrs. Florence Riddick Boys of Plymouth, Mrs. Anna Studebaker of Carlisle of South Bend and Ewing Emison of Vincennes.

The convention ratified the nomination of Ed Jackson for governor in the recent primary election. Jackson, replying to the ratification, declared his opposition to radicalism in all form and said he would demand a proper respect for the law from all classes if elected governor.

"I am opposed to any bloc or special class of people. I believe every citizen is entitled to the fullest protection of the law, regardless of political affiliations, race, creed or color."

The following nominations have been made: Harold VanOrman of Evansville was nominated for lieutenant-governor on the second ballot over Ed Bush, Frank Kimmell of Lafayette and Benjamin Vanwinkle of Hartford City. VanOrman had 680 while Bush was second with 665.

Frederick Schortemeier, Indianapolis, was nominated for secretary of state and Lewis Bowman of Richmond.

MILTON PHYSICIAN LOSES CAR CONTROL

Dr. E. C. Denny Has Narrow Escape When Ford Coupe Turns Over West of City

IS SAVED BY A WIRE FENCE

Dr. E. C. Denny of Milton, had a narrow escape this morning about 9 o'clock, when the new Ford coupe that he was driving, left the road, about two miles west of here on the Shelbyville pike, and landed in the ditch, lying on its side on a wire fence.

Dr. Denny was alone and was enroute to Shelbyville to attend the Sixth District meeting of physicians, of which he is the secretary.

The accident happened near the Gibson farm, where the road makes a turn. It is said that Dr. Denny was attempting to reach a book in the back seat, and lost control. The fence held the car on its side, and prevented in from turning completely over. He was not injured, and the miraculous fact about the accident was that the machine was pulled up the steep grade, and not a scratch, nor broken part was found. It required some time to get the machine out of the ditch, and the fact that the wire fence was secure, prevented a serious accident, as the machine would have continued to turn over.

G. O. P. LIGHTENED BURDEN, HE SAYS

Gov. Branch Asserts State Salaries
And Other Operating Expenses
Have Been Lowered

ADDRESSES THE CONVENTION

Pledges Party to Continuance of
Better Roads, Better Schools,
Better Care of Wards

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Gov. Emmett P. Branch, in an address before the Republican State convention today, pledged the party to a continuance of a program of better roads, better schools, better care of the state's wards and necessary improvements for state institutions.

In an address bristling with figures to show the comparative cost of state government during the last two Democratic administrations and the two Republican administrations following, Branch declared the burden of state salaries and other operating expenses had been lightened under Republican leadership.

"For state operating expenses the state taxpayers paid the sum of $1,534,254 in the last year of the Republican administration," Branch said. "By operating expenses we mean salaries, light, heat, etc. In 1921, the first year of the present administration, you were taxed $998,200 for the same purpose. It cost the taxpayers $536,000 less for the government's operating expenses in 1921 than it did in 1916.

"The Democrats cry that our taxes are too high and lay the blame on the legislature of 1921 and 1923. It is the same cry we heard in the campaign of 1922. They fail to tell you that in the legislature of 1921 with possibly one or two exceptions, every member of senate and house (every Republican and Democratic member, voted for every appropriation made. In their condemnation of the laws of 1921 they have never singled out one law they would repeal.

"You paid a little more for education, for good roads, and for the care of our wards—the feeble minded, the insane, the soldiers and sailors, the orphans and the tubercular—in 1921.

"But when it came to paying hundreds of thousands of dollars more for salaries and state running expenses you had the right to complain and that is exactly what was handed you during the last Democratic administration."

Branch declared the total expense.

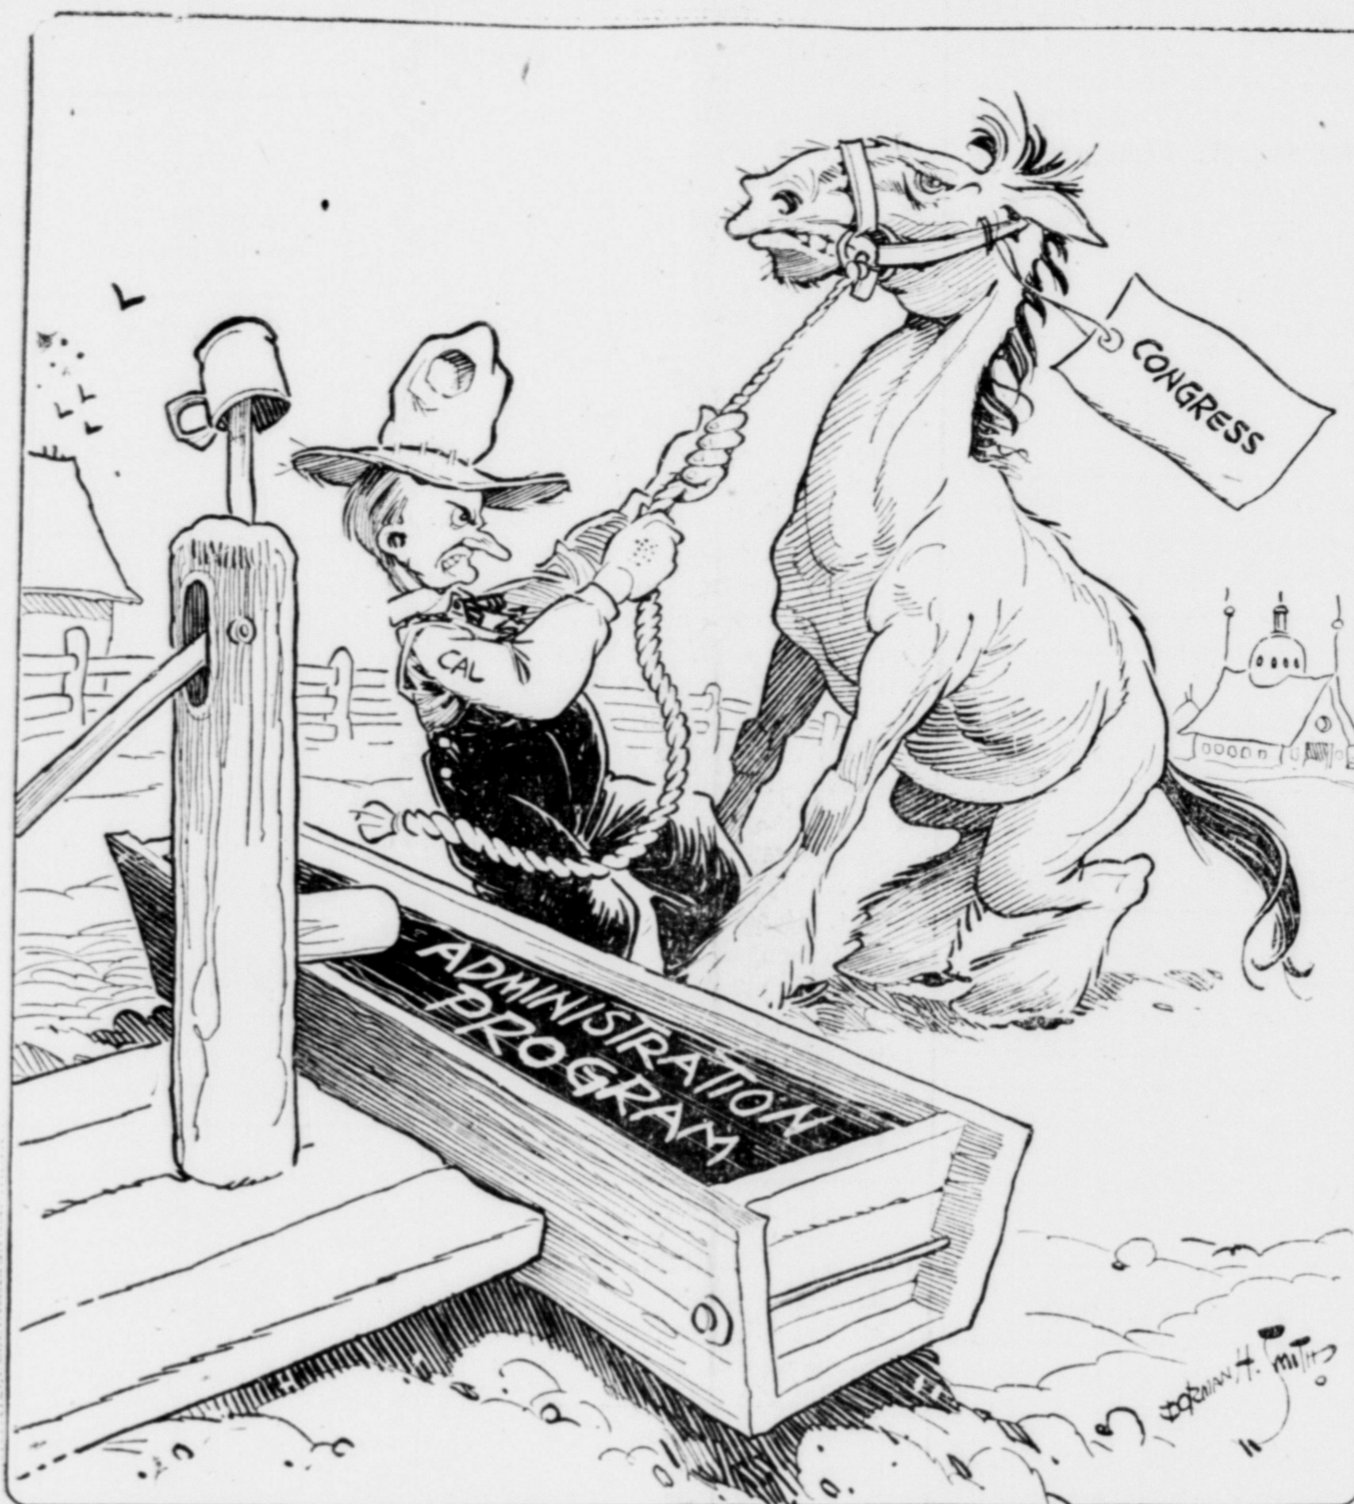

MAYOR FINDS TWO GUILTY

Accused of Dumping Trash Along a
Public Highway

Ab Horr and James Erwin were arraigned this afternoon in police court on affidavits charging them with dumping trash along a public highway. They were tried by Mayor Thomas, who found them guilty and gave them the alternate of paying the $50 fine or cleaning up the trash. The two men stated that they had hauled a small quantity of ashes along the river front. The charge was for dumping trash in an alley between Morgan and Harrison street at the south end of the streets.

According to witnesses, the place has become a public dumping ground, and so far the officers have obtained only the two names. When other names are obtained, further arrests will be made, it was stated.

Courage Of Pioneer Road Builder Made I.&C. Improvements Possible

To Pres. Charles L. Henry Belongs Credit For Re-Equipment of Interurban Line, Which Brings One Step Nearer his Dream of Extending Line to Cincinnati.

This week marks another milestone in the history of the electric railway in Indiana and in the life of its pioneer promoter and guiding spirit, Charles L. Henry, known to the industry as "the father of the interurban," president of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company. With his usual vigor and fighting spirit, Mr. Henry has accomplished with his lines from Indianapolis to Greensburg and Connersville what seemed to be impossible under financial and economic conditions. Complete re-equipment, including twelve new all steel passenger cars with change in current cycle, in power distribution and change in trolley voltage,—putting into what was known as a bankrupt road nearly a million dollars of new money in a way practically certain to protect the original investment in the property. With very little interruption to service, either on the road or to the company's light and power customers the change is being made and the new cars are actually in service on the Greensburg division. They will be in use on the local division soon.

Nineteen years ago the lines of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company were equipped with single phase, 25 cycle power, 3300 volts on the trolley, with high tension power distribution at 33,000 volts generated at the Rushville power plant. This single phase high voltage system was regarded at that time as the last word in efficient electric railway operation and for a number of years it looked as though the trend of development would be along those lines. However, as the art progressed, it became apparent that 600 volt direct current operation would be more suitable for both city and interurban railway operation in more cases than the single phase method, so that its development practically came to a standstill among the manufacturers, their efforts being directed toward improving the direct current system.

With this development came many improvements, including the inter-pole self ventilated motor, control of car electric circuits by air, multiple train controls and finally the automatic sub-station, one of the most remarkable developments of the electric industry. The Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company was unable to keep pace with the progress of other electric railway

INVITATIONS SENT TO WORLD WAR VETERANS

All Former Service Men Urged to Attend War Mothers Banquet
Even if Card is not Received

STATE LEGION HEAD TO TALK

Cards inviting former World War veterans to the banquet to be given by the War Mothers next Wednesday night, were sent out today, and a response is expected from every veteran receiving a card.

It also was pointed out today, that possible some of the veterans had been overlooked, and that they were invited and expected to attend, without the card notice.

The banquet will be held at the Social Club rooms, Second and Morgan street, and the War Mothers are busy making plans for the banquet and program. Among the speakers to be present are Arthur Ball, state commander of the American Legion, and Frank Handley, state adjutant, and several other prominent speakers.

The program and banquet will start at 6:30 o'clock, and the War Mothers have called attention to the fact that it is to be an open meeting, for all former service men, and not expressly for Legion members.

MANILLA HOME IS BURNED TO GROUND

Residence Owned and Occupied by
Albert Robinson Destroyed But
Household Goods Saved

OTHER HOMES ENDANGERED

Rushville Pumper Answers Call But
Danger Passes and No Water is
Thrown—Valued at $8,000

The residence owned and occupied by Albert Robinson, a tinner and plumber of Manilla, was completely destroyed by fire this morning shortly after nine o'clock, and a favorable wind prevented a disastrous fire, which would have caused considerable damage to the residential district of the town.

The house was a large two story, frame structure and was estimated to be worth $8,000. It is understood that $3,600 insurance was carried.

The blaze started in the roof, and had gained rapid headway before it was discovered. By the time that the citizens could be summoned, it was useless to make any attempt to extinguish the flames, and attention was then devoted to surrounding property and to removing the household goods.

Practically all of the household goods were taken from the burning house, and all of the canned fruit removed from the basement. A gasoline engine in the basement was removed and even the bath tub and other plumbing fixtures were taken from the house before it became too dangerous for them to work in the building.

When the fire was at its greatest height, the flying shingles, and a wind, gave cause for alarm, and a call for help was made to this city. The pumper was sent, in charge of Leslie Downey, fireman, but soon after it had left word was received that the danger had passed.

The truck made the trip, but the dwelling was too far gone to be saved, and the surrounding property was being protected by men with buckets.

The origin of the fire was not known. It is the supposition that pigeons had nests in the top of the roof, and that a match had been carried by the birds. Mrs. Robinson was in the kitchen at the time, and was not aware of the fire until workmen at the school building, near the place, came over and spread the alarm.

A seven inch tile ditch, filled with water, ran close to the house, and

ASKS $500 ALIMONY IN SUIT

Carrie E. Fleechart Wants Divorce
and Child's Custody

Carrie E. Fleechart today filed suit in the circuit court against Fred A. Fleechart, asking for a divorce, support, alimony and the custody of a minor child. The complaint alleges that they were married January 22, 1921 and separated May 13, 1924. She charges the defendant with cruel treatment, and that he on one occasion pushed her back across a table, and bruised her. She also charges that he associated with other women, and would frequently become intoxicated.

She asks for a divorce, a reasonable amount for support money, for the custody of a three-year-old child, and $500 alimony. The plaintiff resides at 511 North Arthur street, the suit says.

WOOL POOL AND GIRL'S CLUBS ARE DISCUSSED

More Than 125 Farmers Attend
Monthly Meeting of Orange Township Association at Moscow

COMMUNITY PROGRAM GIVEN

More than 125 farmers attended the monthly meeting Wednesday night of the Orange township Farm Bureau at the church in Moscow, when an interesting community program was rendered and a business session held.

Music was furnished by a six piece orchestra. Vocal solos were rendered by Iris McKay, Emma Tevis and Louise Tumes. Bertha Cole also gave a piano solo. Readings and monologues were rendered by Mrs. Charles Holden and Mrs. Charles Owens.

Following the program, the members remained in the church auditorium and J. W. Ritter of Elkhart, one of the assistants in organizing the wheat pool, was present and explained the plan to the farmers, and several of them took advantage of the opportunity to sign the contracts. The canvas of the township is also under way.

The women and girls were addressed in another part of the church, by H. D. VanMatre, county agent, who explained the girls' club project, and interest along this line was also shown.

DAMAGE BY FREEZE CAN'T BE ESTIMATED

Will not be Known for Several Days;
Gardners Say, Whether Fruit
Was Injured

FREEZING TEMPERATURE—30

The damage done by a light freeze and heavy frost during the night can not be estimated for a few days, it was stated today, but there is little doubt but that much fruit has been damaged.

Whether strawberries and other fruit that was in the blooming stage, were injured, will not be determined until the sun comes out, it was said by gardeners. If the center of the fruit bloom turns black, it is evidence that the fruit has been killed.

The temperature dropped to thirty degrees during the night, two degrees below freezing, and thin coats of ice were found this morning.

The unseasonable weather during May has been very uncomfortable and disagreeable and has been a hindrance to farmers in the planting of spring crops. A light frost was predicted for last night by the weather man, but there was no intimation of freezing temperature.

Many people are agreed that May was never so uniformly cold and productive of rain as it has been this year. Snow fell on May 9 last year, but following that the temperatures were seasonable.

LOCAL MAN ELECTED

Will M. Frazee of this city was elected a delegate to the republican national convention by the Indiana state convention delegates from the sixth congressional district, at a meeting in Indianapolis Wednesday night, and Miss Mary Sleeth, also of Rushville, was elected an alternate.

SERVICES WILL BE HELD AT CEMETERY

Details Are Completed for Observance of Memorial Day by Legion and Patriotic Societies

PARADE TO FORM AT 9 A. M.

Ceremonies at G. A. R. Monument and on Legion Lot in East Hill—
Paul McNutt Will Speak

Details for the annual Memorial Day observance in this city, have been completed, and the program outlined. The assembly will take place for the line of March May 30 at 8:45 o'clock at the court house, and the parade will march promptly at nine o'clock to the cemetery.

The procession will be headed by the American Legion firing squad and colors, followed by the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. and other auxiliaries in machines. Then will come the former World War veterans in uniform, walking, and they will be followed by school children and other fraternal and patriotic organizations.

Upon arrival at the cemetery, the ritualistic service of the G. A. R. monument will be held, in charge of the Woman's Relief corps. The people will then proceed to the hillside where the address will be delivered by Paul McNutt, head of the law department of Indiana university.

Ritualistic services also will be held here by the W. R. C. and then there will be a service at the Legion quarters in the cemetery, following by decoration of graves for the veterans of all wars.

In the afternoon in the assembly room of the court house, the program will be given in charge of the auxiliaries of the various ladies organizations.

It was stated today that the Memorial Day exercises are for all former service men, whether members of the Legion or not, and it is urged by those in charge, that a large delegation of World War veterans, in uniform, turn out for the meeting.

The observance also is for all patriotic organizations, and co-operation is urged to show respect for those who have preceded the veterans in death.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better, and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MABEL LIST SHERBAHN, 515 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Banker Deaf for Years Now Hears Perfectly

Mr. John L. Ellerman, President of the Farmers National bank, Fairfax, South Dakota, says that after suffering from deafness for many years he can now hear the slightest whisper and is so proud and happy of his own good fortune that he wants everyone who is deaf or hard of hearing to know about it. After trying everything he could hear of without success, Mr. Ellerman finally saw the announcement of a New York firm stating that they had perfected a new hearing device called the Acousticon which would enable anyone whose auditory nerve was not entirely destroyed to hear as perfectly as those with normal hearing. As this firm offered to send their product on Ten Days Free Trial—no deposit—no C. O. D., he decided to try it. To his utter amazement and delight, he found that this remarkable invention enabled him to hear all sounds as clearly as when a boy. He has since recommended it to a number of his friends and they also report most satisfactory results. If you want to hear again as well as when a child, write the Dictograph Products Corporation, Suite 1307-C, No. 220 W. 42nd Street, New York City, and ask them to send you an Acousticon on Ten Days Free Trial. There are no strings attached to their offer. The trial is absolutely free. Just send them your name and address.

Delegates-At-Large Doubled in Number as a Compromise

mond for auditor of state by acclamation.

Apparent peace and harmony prevailed in Republican ranks as the second day of the convention opened at 10 o'clock today.

The conference on selection of the slate of delegates-at-large appeared to have appeased all factions, even the faction of the Ku Klux Klan headed by D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana realm of the Klan.

Stephenson, who had apparently ousted Walter Bossert from the Watson bandwagon, said his support would go to the following slate for state offices:

Harold Van Orman, Evansville, lieutenant-governor; Frederick Schortemeier, Indianapolis, secretary of state; Wilbur Ryman, Muncie, attorney general; Henry Sherwood, Franklin, for superintendent of public instruction.

Ben Urban appeared the likely winner in the race for state treasurer.

Friends of former Senator Beveridge believed the Watson forces secured the Watson-for-vice-president plank in the platform in order to forestall a similar move for Beveridge.

The loom for Watson as running mate for President Coolidge was given its start when six of the thirteen district caucuses earlier in the night approved Watson's proposed candidacy.

In an all night session the platform committee wrestled with resolutions to build up a compromise platform that would meet the approval of all factions in the convention today.

The platform does not mention the Ku Klux Klan but declares that the laws must be enforced upon the high and low alike without prejudice to race, color, or creed.

This plank, coupled with Senator Watson's declaration in his keynote address that questions of religion or membership in secret organizations are not within the province of political issues, was found acceptable to the Klan.

Three hundred delegates said to be members of the Ku Klux Klan bolted district caucuses last night to attend a meeting at which a slate for state offices was agreed on.

MOVIES

"Painted People," at Princess

The screen's two most famous portrayals of mother roles have important parts in "Painted People," a comedy drama of small town life, which opens today at the Princess theatre, with Colleen Moore in the starring role.

In this gem of pathos and humor, Mary Carr, of "Over the Hill" fame, plays mother to Ben Lyon and Mary Alden is mother to Miss Moore.

"Painted People," a picturization of Richard Connell's Collier's Weekly serial, is a pleasing romance of a boy and girl who set out to make themselves worthy of wealthier sweethearts, to find, after they had become successful, that their idols had feet of clay and that in reality they have made themselves worthy for each other.

An unusually talented cast of players enact the interesting roles: the all-star aggregation comprises Colleen Moore, in the leading role; Ben Lyon, Charlotte Merriam, Charlie Murray, Anna Q. Nilsson, Sam De Grasse, Joe Striker, Mary Alden, Russell Simpson, Mary Carr, and June Elvidge.

"Painted People" is a First National picture, and was directed by Clarence Badger, who directed that famous success, "Potash and Perlmutter."

"The Bright Shawl," Castle

It was just a bright shawl.

PLATFORM SUBMITTED TO G. O. P. CONVENTION FOR RATIFICATION

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Without direct mention of the Ku Klux Klan or reference to the primary law the resolutions committee of the Republican convention today submitted the party platform to the convention for ratification.

The platform is substantially the same as that drawn up by a "committee of fifty" appointed some time ago by Frederick Schortemeier, secretary of the state committee.

The resolution committee added a plank endorsing Senator Watson for vice-president and modified some of the resolutions.

The platform as presented, one of the briefest presented to a state convention in recent years, contained the following planks:

NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION: Commends constructive achievements of national administration and pledges support of Indiana Republicans to the reelection of President Coolidge.

STATE ADMINISTRATION: Approves public service commission law with modifications, declares for continuance of state road building program and commends work of various state departments.

LABOR: Recommends that in all matters of government in which labor may be affected, the representatives of bona fide labor should be consulted.

AGRICULTURE: Calls for immediate state and national legislation to relieve the farmers.

TAXATION: Declares every class of property must be made to bear its just share of the burden of taxation. Opposes increasing the number of taxing districts covering the same territory by which the constitutional debt limit is in effect avoided.

BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS: Opposes the creation of additional board and commissions already created. The abolishment of every unnecessary board or commission already created.

STATE SECURITIES LAW: Pledges the party to strengthen the present securities law.

BUDGET SYSTEM: Favors continuance of the present budget system.

WOMEN: Commends Republican women for their work in the interest of the party.

PUBLIC FUNDS: Favors placing all funds received by boards or departments of the state government in the state treasury.

EDUCATION: Pledges that no reactionary steps shall be taken in the field of education.

ST. LAWRENCE RIVER PROJECT: Approves the Great-Lake-St. Lawrence waterway project.

EMBLEM: Adopts eagle as the emblem of the party.

SENATOR WATSON: Endorses Senator Watson for the Republican nomination for vice president.

NO LOCAL CANDIDATES APPLY FOR THE CAMP

No Letup in Effort of County Chairman, W. F. Easley, to Get Applicants for Camp Knox

VALUE OF SUMMER TRAINING

Although no local candidates have applied for admission to the citizens military training camp, to be held at Camp Knox, Kentucky, there is no letup in the effort by the Rush county chairman, Walter F. Easley, to induce some Rush county young men to attend.

In the past, Rush county has always been represented at the summer camp, and it is hoped that some young men will make application.

"Uncle Sam" has issued an invitation to all healthy, normal boys between the ages of 16 and 24 years, of age to spend a month at Camp Knox, in the great outdoors.

The Citizens Military Training Camps, coming at the time of the year which most parents set aside as vacation time for the boy, has solved the parents problem as to where to send him this summer. The training camp will not only satisfy his love of travel, but it will also be in the nature of an education of the most practical sort—a mental as well as physical development of the young man at an age when it is likely to be of the greatest benefit to him. All expense is paid by the government from the time the boy leaves his own home until he returns, including railroad fare, food, clothes, quarters, medical and dental treatment.

But it was also the token of a great love, the messenger of death, the cloak of a spy, and in the end the harbinger of lasting happiness.

It is around this dazzling garment, worn by a vivid Andalusian dancer in Havana in the days of Spanish oppression against Cuba, that the plot of the highly dramatic and romantic photoplay, "The Bright Shawl," now playing at the Castle theatre to crowded houses, is woven.

Dying from a knife wound, La Clavel, the dancer, gives the shawl to Charles Abbott, young American, played by Richard Barthelmess, as a final remembrance of her affection.

In turn the bloodstained garment is found by La Pilar, female spy. She wears it to the negro danzon and its brilliance helps to lure a young Cuban patriot to his death. She kills him and throws the bright shawl over the body.

The American, after losing consciousness in a duel, awakens aboard ship to find the woman he loves and—the bright shawl. So Joseph Hergesheimer wrote it; so, too, John S. Robertson pictured it as a First National attraction—and one of the most important productions of the year.

"The Man From Wyoming"

A graphis picturization of the ancient feud of the western range country between sheepmen and cattle is presented in the Universal photodrama, "The Man from Wyoming," showing at the Mystic theatre Friday.

Jack Hoxie, the hard riding cowboy whose daring horsemanship has graced so many western films, is starred in the production, and his beautiful white saddle horse, "Scout," again figures prominently in this picture.

Hoxie plays the role of a sheep herder who gets into trouble with neighboring cattlemen and whose life is saved by the girl owner of the cattle ranch, Lillian Rich, the attractive heroine of "Man to Man," "The Kentucky Derby," and other big Universal productions, plays the role of the ranch owner.

Seek eternal things:—We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal. 2 Corinthians 4:18.

Prayer:—Open thou our eyes, O Lord, that we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

Odds Are Even

The odds appear to be about even now, between the president and congress, and it's time the congress close up shop and get ready for the national conventions and repair work on the political fences.

The president vetoed the bonus bill and the house and senate passed it over his veto. He likewise vetoed the omnibus pension bill and it was sustained.

In the case of the bonus bill the president, like the thrifty parent who tries to keep down expenses, said, "Our country can not afford it." The congress said, "it makes no difference; our credit is good and we can charge it."

Plenty of families, because their credit is good, are living on the policy that congress adopted in the case of the bonus. Sooner or later the families that have the habit of going over their budget will come to grief. So will the government. But congressmen voted for votes next fall, not economy in government.

The senate stood by the president—he counseled adherence to the budget and against any increase in national expenditures.

With a surplus of $300,000,000 in the treasury, it is easy to appropriate large sums to appease the desires of various groups of our citizens, even though future accumulations seem impossible, in the face of tax legislation.

The pension bill would have taken some $58,000,000 annually to meet its provisions, in addition to pension legislation already in force.

Other appropriations in excess of the budget allotments would subtract many more millions from the treasury balance.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The name "Gillett" in Massachusetts means safety in more than razors. It means safety, also, in Republican politics.

For Frederick Huntington Gillett of Springfield who is always meant in Massachusetts when the name "Gillett" is mentioned, has a record of 16 unbroken victories in campaigns for Congress.

Being "safe" as well as "safe," it was inevitable that this long tenure should make him one of the G. O. P. powers, not only in Massachusetts but in Congress. As a result of which he has presided, as Speaker, over the last three Congresses; a dignified, proper, conservative presiding officer, such as might be expected from precise Massachusetts.

NOW, however, the peaceful certainty of re-election to Congress from his home district is to be abandoned. The certainty of another term as speaker, in case a Republican Congress is elected this fall, is to be foregone in an attempt to wrest from David Ignatius Walsh, Democrat, the senatorial seat the state must fill this fall.

Instead of a gentlemanly campaign in his home city of Springfield and environs, Gillett must plunge into a state-wide campaign that promises to be one of the bitterest and most bloody battles waged in New England since the Revolution.

GILLETT is not making this change wholly from choice. The cause for which he enters the senatorial fight is not a personal one. As speaker of the House he has more power and perquisites than he would have as a simple senator.

But with Calvin Coolidge, the favorite son of Massachusetts, leading the Republican national ticket this year, the possibility that Walsh, a Democrat, may win

re-election to the Senate is enough to throw G. O. P. leaders into chills and a cold sweat every time they think of it.

WILLIAM M. BUTLER, who was first slated to make the fight against Walsh, was chosen by President Coolidge to manage his election campaign. That puts him out of the senatorial race. He will have his hands full with the national campaign.

Channing Cox, Republican governor of the Bay State, was then approached. Cox thought it over and decided he didn't care for the honor.

Whereupon Frederick William Dallinger, a member of Congress from Cambridge, announced he would make the race.

DALLINGER'S announcement, however, didn't satisfy Coolidge and other party leaders. Frankly, they doubted his ability to put the skids under Walsh. For one thing, Dallinger is an ardent and active "dry." Next to Wayne Wheeler and Upshaw of Georgia, he's the driest dry in Washington.

And while it is desired that the Massachusetts candidate for the Senate be pledged to uphold the constitution, it is not considered necessary for him to single out specifically the eighteenth amendment as the part to be upheld most zealously. Which is what they fear Dallinger would do.

ON the heels of Dallinger's announcement, Gillett was called to see Coolidge. On the heels of his White House call, he announced he would run for the Senate. Did Coolidge request it? Draw your own conclusion.

Undoubtedly, Gillett's candidacy will have the full support of the old line leadership in the G. O. P. He is the one man with whom they will feel safe. But even with Gillette, they admit, it may be a close shave.

"Plain Folks"

(Indianapolis News)

Following the eighty-fifth annual convention of the Christian churches of Indiana, at Rushville last week, Rush county has been indulging in a little self-congratulation. The Rushville Republican says that the visitors not only saw beautiful homes, got acquainted with the value of the fertile ground in which the natives take pride, and rode over the well-kept country highways, but they also must have got an understanding of what lies back of all that Rush county does. The Republican says:

"If the people of Rush county can always be as hospitable in the entertainment of visitors, as they were during the convention just closed, the county's hospitality will be a by word throughout Indiana, just as is her reputation for being the largest hog producing county in the world. We like to boast of our material achievement and tell the world about what we have accomplished, but after all, nothing is quite so gratifying as to know that our efforts have been appreciated and that we are regarded as just 'plain folk.'"

Uncle Jack Gowdy went to Paris as one of the "plain folk" of Rush county and upheld American traditions in the consular service. Some of the people were shocked when they heard that Gowdy had been appointed. They argued that he knew nothing about etiquette and that his manner was bluff. None of this criticism worried Uncle Jack. He went over to Paris and did as well as or better than the average American. The secret of Uncle Jack Gowdy's success lay in the fact that he never tried to overdo. He took Rush county hospitality as his standard and merely lived up to it. The French liked it as well as the church people enjoyed coming in contact with it last week. Being "plain folks" has gone out of fashion in a good many parts of America. If Rush county can encourage this quality and keep it alive the community will have done something worth doing—worth doing more than anything that goes back merely to material things for its basis.

Postmaster Charles A. Frazee will go to Indianapolis next Tuesday and Wednesday to attend a State meeting of the presidential postmasters.

Grant Gregg, the present city clerk, today made his announcement that he would be a candidate for re-election in the Republican nomination. He has made a good record and many friends during his administration of the office and will no doubt be one of the most formidable candidates in the field.

A spectre of the olden days, attired in new apparel, was seen in Rushville today. Remember the old court house rack, and how it was crowded every Saturday with vehicles that belonged to farmers? Time and a new court house wiped out that convenience, but it is now looming up in a different manner. Around the court house square today, where the horses formerly stood all day, over thirty automobiles had their "noses" facing the curb.

Several members of the local Gun club participated in the tri-county shoot held at St. Paul Thursday. Charles Brooks carried away the honors in the Rush county event with Dr. Frank M. Mack Faces Another Failure

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 22—After a career of 30 years in any profession, during which the satisfaction of success and the disappointment of failure have been divided almost evenly it is only a game man who can retain his enthusiasm and keep plugging along and fighting for the ninth inning break in luck.

Connie Mack has been in and around professional baseball for 30 years, and fate asked of him the test that only a game heart and an enthusiastic love for his profession could attempt to meet.

Mack was a tremendous success during the middle decade of his career. He developed the Philadelphia Athletics of 10 and 15 years ago into a team that will go down on the books second only to that great old Baltimore Oriole organization.

Mack's claim for fame and great reputation was represented not so much in the conquests of the team, but in the sagacity and keen judgment that he had shown in finding and developing the great stars who formed the machine on the field.

Before he had reached that point in years where his career might have been regarded as being over the hill, Mack was a recognized success, a manager pointed out as a genius and a fashion setter of a game where success follows the imitation of success in a large degree.

Right in the height of his glory, luck broke for Mack. He was plunged from the heights to the depths of baseball. Instead of being the toast of baseball, he became the roast of the game. The revered name of the Philadelphia Athletics became the punching bag for the wise cracks of humorists. They became the Pathetics instead of the Athletics, and the best thing that Mack's friends could say of him was that he deserved a chance to make good.

It might not have been pride, exactly, that rode Mack to his fall, but there was an exaggerated feeling of confidence, at least, behind him when, in 1914, he tore apart the great Athletic machine and declared that he would build another just as good.

He used all his building skill for 9 years, and he was unable to get his club out of the American League "cellar" or off the steps leading to the "cellar". He hunted through the same territory where he had found the stars of his old nine, but he discovered no more Collinses, Bakers, Barrys, Benders or Planks.

Winning from the Phils 8 to 6, while the Reds were losing the Chicago Cubs moved into first place in the National League. Mogan's homer with two on put Alexander in trouble, but he pulled out.

Seven runs scored on a big rally in the seventh inning gave Brooklyn a 9 to 2 victory and dropped the Reds into second place.

Mas-ing their attack on three pitchers, the Giants smacked out 16 hits and beat the Pirates 10 to 8.

Clark, Detroit cast off, singled in the eighth inning and drove in the run that gave the Red Sox a 5 to 4 victory over the Tigers. It was the fifth straight victory for the Red Sox and the thirteenth out of their last 16 games.

Cruise's homer in the ninth inning with one on helped along a four run rally but the Cardinals were busy early in the game and the Braves lost 8 to 5.

TO RECONSIDER THE PLAYER-WRITER RULE

U. S. Lawn Tennis Association Draws Up Plans For Fight That Will Result Over Reconsideration

COMMITTEE TO MEET JUNE 4

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 22—Campaign plans for the fight that will result over the reconsideration of the "player-writer rule" by the United States Lawn Tennis association are now being drawn by the leaders of both factions.

George W. Wightman, president of the association, Holcombe Ward, chairman of the amateur rule committee which called William T. Tilden an "evil menace" to the game and Julian W. Myrick, former president of the association are to electioneer on the road in favor of the rule.

The champion, at the request of his supporters will make a tour and present his side of the country and explain his reasons why he will retire if he is not allowed to continue newspaper writing.

The executive committee of the association will not meet to June 4 to consider a recommendation that a special meeting be called to reconsider the player-writer rule and the intervening time will be spent in the accumulation of ammunition.

Edward C. Conlin, leader, the Tilden faction, said today that he would fight the purpose of the West Side Tennis club to swing all its votes against Tilden although it has been shown that the club membership is only slightly in favor of the rule.

Greensburg Men Make The High Scores at Local Shoot

The Rushville Gun club held its bi-weekly shoot at the traps east of the city Wednesday, and there were several shooters out to enjoy the afternoon, and many out-of-town visitors were on hands.

Several good scores were made considering the high wind which cut the scores down considerably.

GIBBONS PREPARING A CHANGE OF PACE

Wishes to Provide Himself with Jarring "Dempsey Punch" When He Meets Carpentier

FRENCHMAN BOXING EQUAL

Michigan City, May 22—Tommy Gibbons, leading exponent of speed and shifty boxing, is preparing a change of pace to provide him with a jarring "Dempsey punch" when he enters the ring May 31 with Georges Carpentier.

Convinced that the Frenchman is his equal in boxing, Gibbons expects to beat him with the same medicine administered by Jack Dempsey when the world's champion took Carpentier's measure in New Jersey. Gibbons is working with big sparring partners and is shaking them with blows much harder than he has ever dealt before. He is perfecting a short jab very similar to that of Dempsey and perfecting his close-in work.

Carpentier is sparring with heavies for the first time since his arrival. He gave an impressive exhibition in two round bouts with Soldier King of Grand Rapids and Jack Taylor, negro heavyweight. Carpentier's famous "leaping right" is being exercised a lot on the sand bag around than on almost any other single form of training.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

New York—Johnny Dundee, worlds featherweight champion, has been given 14 days under penalty of suspension by the New York boxing commission to accept a match with Johnny Leonard, Allentown, Pa., for the title. Notice was also served on Mickey Walker, worlds welterweight, that he has until Monday to accept a match with Dave Shade, California for his title.

Atlanta, Ga.—Dan O'Dowd, Boston who fought Young Stribling here Tuesday night was suspended for 60 days by the Atlanta boxing commission for failing to "give his best efforts" in his battle with Stribling.

PAUL M. PHILLIPS

Porter's Camp Annual Opening Sunday, May 25 Flat Rock, Ind., "LET'S GO" Admission 10c

The choir of the Main Street Christian church will meet in the church Thursday evening at eight o'clock for rehearsal.

The choir of the St. Paul's M. C. church will hold a rehearsal Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church and all members are urged to be present.

The Delphian Society will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Elks club. There will be election of officers and all members are urged to be present.

The Rebekahs will meet Friday evening at eight o'clock at their lodge rooms in North Main street. A large attendance is desired as there will be election of officers.

On Wednesday evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church a most delightful time was had by the young people of the church. Contests and many interesting games were enjoyed and as a closing feature the social committee served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. George Craig was hostess Wednesday to the members of the Industrial club when she entertained with a pitch-in dinner. Twenty were present and enjoyed the beautiful repast. In the afternoon a business meeting was conducted and several matters were discussed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed Spradling.

Approximately seventy five couples attended the dinner-dance given Wednesday evening at the Social Club in North Morgan street. A dinner was served preceding the dance, the division captained by Mrs. Lowell M. Green and Mrs. Lee

Endres having charge. An Indianapolis orchestra furnished splendid music for the dancers and several out-of town guests were present.

The Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian church held a meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Bert Trabuc had charge of the meeting and the chapter study was "Children and Schools." In the discussion, the members applied the subject locally and the city nurse, Miss Mary Hollowell, gave an interesting talk on "Health of the Children in the Rushville schools." A business session was held at the conclusion of the program.

SUSPECTED AS SAFE BLOWERS

Three Held at Frankfort After Running Gun Fight

Frankfort, Ind., May 22—Three Chicago men suspected of being safe blowers were held in jail here today after a running gun battle with police and a posse of citizens.

The men, giving the names of Dan Morgan, G. W. Landy and Charles Norman, were sent to hide a safe blowing outfit consisting of saws, hammers, files, guns, torches and gas tanks under a culvert near here.

A farmer saw them hide the outfit and leave. A posse gathered and the men were ambushed when they returned.

After an exchange of shots in which no one was injured the trio surrendered. One of the men had $500 in his sock when arrested.

TWO PASTORS ARE SPEAKERS

L. E. Brown And R. W. Sage Talk at Parent-Teacher's Meeting

A fairly good crowd attended the meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association held Tuesday afternoon at 5:10 o'clock, in the assembly room of the Graham high school. Miss Helen Jachue sang a solo and the Rev. L. E. Brown, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, gave a splendid talk on "Child Welfare." The program closed with a talk by the Rev. R. W. Sage on "The Relation of the Parent to the Child", which was also very instructive.

The manual training class of the high school also had a display of their mechanical drawings at this time, which were inspected by the parents and teachers present and much favorable comment was given on the drawings.

Modern Valjean

Ira B. Hall, like another Jean Valjean, finds himself undone by his honesty and faith. Eight years ago Hall escaped from a Georgia prison where he was under sentence for murder and, joined by his wife and family, went to live on a Florida truck farm. There he has been an exemplary citizen. Recently his daughter became engaged to marry and, feeling that his future son-in-law should be told, Hall bared his story. A few days later a sheriff arrived and returned Hall to prison. Mrs. Hall (here pictured with her baby) is pleading before the Georgia Prison Commission for his release.

SCHOOL WORK IS DISPLAYED

Exhibit in G. C. Wyatt & Co., Window Causes Favorable Comment

A display, showing the accomplishments of the mechanical drawing and art departments of the high school, is causing much comment, because of the remarkable manner in which the work has been done. The display is in the windows at the George C. Wyatt and Company store. The drawings are exceptional in every detail, and appear to be more professional than that of a high school pupil.

Besides this work, there are several pieces of manual training work in the window, which will rival any furniture than can be bought in the stores.

ditures of the first fiscal year, under the present administration were $9,494,000 and not $13,648,000 as had been represented. He said a total of $3,750,000 in that year was handled by the state as a matter of book-keeping and turned back to county school funds or to the different circuit and superior courts.

"The Democrats do not tell that of the $9,494,000 expended in the first year of the present administration, $2,213,000 went for the state highway system and $179,000 for the soldier memorial fund, expenses which the Democrats did not have to account for in 1916," Branch continued.

"They do not mention that in 1921 we spent $1,424,000 more for educational purposes than in 1916 and $1,350,000 more from taxes for the benefit of state wards.

"For these and other similar purposes we spent in 1921 $5,167,824 more than we spent in the last year of the Democratic administration.

"All this was necessary and went for the highest purposes. No one, be he Republican or Democrat, could object unless he be an ingrate.

"If it is not right to help the unfortunate wards of the state, to help educate our children in a degree comparable with other states, then the Republican party is wrong and the nancy for these things should not have been taxed. You cannot have better roads, better schools, better teachers and better care of the unfortunate unless you pay the price."

Branch reviewed the expenditures of county, township, city and town units for the past ten years to show that there has been a similar increase in taxes in the local units, whether managed by Republicans or Democrats, due to the depreciated buying power of the dollar and the greater demands placed upon all governmental agencies.

Increased expenditures or schools, Branch said, became an absolute necessity because of the larger attendance, the longer terms of school, higher salaries for teachers and better school buildings.

Turning to the construction of the new state reformatory at Pendleton, Branch said the Democrats had made a political football of the institution and defended its construction on the grounds that the old reformatory at Jeffersonville was antiquated and in need of vast expenditures of money for repairs.

He said the "luxury" of the reformatory was a political myth and that the construction had been carried on at a minimum cost.

He said the "luxury" of the new reformatory was a political myth and that construction had been carried on at a minimum cost. Neighboring states are paying millions more for new prisons, the governor said.

Referring to good roads, Governor Branch said the state has constructed 387 miles of pavement and built outright or reclaimed more than 3,000 miles of gravel and stone roads during the two years ending Sept. 30, 1923.

"Up to date Indiana has invested $26,551,000 in its state road system, and only four cents out of every dollar collected for roads are paid on office and administration expenses," the governor continued.

"Good roads are paramount to national and state progress. Indiana is climbing out of the mud through the medium of modern highways. The state highway department is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars for a result that no one would be deprived of."

At present, the state has in its treasury $6,477,858 with outstanding loans of $2,500,000, leaving a balance of $3,998,000 the governor told the convention.

Economies in administration have been effected in various state departments and in the cost of legislation during the present administration, he said.

In concluding he urged the Republicans to have faith in a policy of expansion of the agencies of government necessary to meet the requirements of the population.

Decorative

Black and white striped satin such as this, is so decorative itself that even cut on the simplest lines it takes on an elaborate air. Here the stripes go round on the skirt and under the arms but go down on the sleeves and from six wide tucks at the hem, a few steel-colored buttons and a tasse scarf are effectively used.

Makes Bobbed Hair Unpopular

Brazil, Ind., May 22—The bobbed hair fad is expected to subside here following the increase in the price of bobs by local barbers from 50 to 75 cents. Many young women who have been having their hair bobbed regularly have decided to insuragure a strike and let their hair grow long again as a result of the avarice of the barbers.

OLD IRIQUOIR PASSES

Chicago, May 22—The Colonial theatre, scene of the Iriquois theatre fire of 1902, when 57 persons lost their lives was stripped of its furnishings today, preparatory to being torn down to make way for an office building.

In November of 1902 the Iriquois was thrown open to the public. A few months later while the place was jammed, fire broke out on the stage. A mad panic followed and nearly all the victims were trampled to death in the wild rush to escape.

Later the theatre was rebuilt and renamed the Colonial. Big business enterprises hemming in the theatre, have made the property so valuable that it was decided to turn the ground over to an office building.

systems by reason of the fact that there was nothing better to be had in the single phase method of operation—there had been practically no development, therefore nothing could be done without a complete change. Furthermore, all of the other lines entering Indianapolis were 600 volt lines, so that free exchange of traffic with these lines was greatly handicapped. Along with this disadvantage the I. & C. struggled against a heavy burden of expense in trying to maintain its single phase electric equipment, which was highly susceptible to electric trouble of various kinds, resulting in numerous vexatious delays.

When the lines of the I. & C. were first built, it was the intention of its owners to extend the line to Cincinnati. But promotion of the extension has been a series of disappointments. Entrance into Cincinnati was barred for years on account of physical difficulties which apparently could not be adjusted. All city tracks in Cincinnati were broad gauge, making it impracticable for a standard gauge line to enter. Finally a rapid transit loop was planned, using the bed of the old Miami Canal, which when filled in and covered, was to provide an electric railway tunnel entrance into the heart of the city, and a bond issue of $6,000,000 was authorized by the city to build the loop. Things looked brighter for the I. & C. extension and much right-of-way was secured, the plan being to build from Rushville to College Hill through Brookville and Metamora, a district route with 63 miles to build.

Then came the World War. Estimates for the rapid transit loop had been based on pre-war costs and the money appropriated represented little more than a good start toward the actual cost. For a long time nothing was done, then plans were started to use the existing funds as far as they would go with the hope that additional levies might be made later. So the work has progressed and upwards of $4,000,000 has been expended while the loop is far from complete. That part of the loop that would provide an interurban entrance for the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company is practically finished so that it now may be possible for the road to enter Cincinnati if the extension can be financed.

Failure of the road to make its other terminus, Cincinnati, has, of course, been the principal reason for its failure to be profitable to its owners together with the difficulties already recited pertaining to its equipment.

Along with its inability to enter Cincinnati, came the economic problems growing out of the war with later hardships due to railroad and coal strikes. In the meantime came the automobile, the paved highway, the bus and the truck.

A less courageous man than Mr. Henry would have given up the struggle against such overwhelming odds, but surrender is not in his make up. Last June, he presented a financial plan to his directors for the complete re-equipment of the company's lines involving expenditure of $800,000. The directors were doubtful—then caught the enthusiasm of the pioneer railroad builder when he began to show how the job could be done. The electric railway equipment manufacturers were doubtful, then they too caught the spirit of the plan through which the road could be completely re-equipped and financed on the saving in the cost of operating over the old system. The plan took on more definite form, the money was raised, contracts were placed, work started and the re-equipment is practically complete. What appeared to be impossible has been done. And again it seems to be with in the range of possibility that the extension into Cincinnati may become an established fact. The re-equipment of the company's line and change in cycle are a logical preliminary step toward the extension.

The company will purchase power from the Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern Traction Company, discontinuing the operation of the Rushville Power Plant, resulting in a very large saving in power cost. Power will be transmitted to the company's nine automatic sub-stations at three phase, 33,000 volt, sixty cycle, where it will be turned in to the trolley at 600 volts direct current. The usual railway sub-station requires an operator in continuous charge but with the automatic station no attendant is necessary.

When a car reaches that section of line served by an automatic station, the load on the line automatically starts up the rotary converter in the station which continues to run as long as there is a load on the line. When the car passes on to line served by the next station, the first station automatically stops until the next car comes along. The company has an additional automatic sub-station mounted on a standard electric railway car which can be moved to any portion of the line where additional capacity is temporarily needed or to take the place of any of the fixed sub-stations, should they be damaged by lightning or otherwise become inoperative. The automatic sub-stations are located at Hoffman, Reedville, Gwynneville, Rushville and Martin on the Connersville Division and at Wildwood, Fairland, Prescott and Adams on the Greensburg division.

New, electric equipment has been installed on the company's freight motor cars and a number of new stock cars and box cars have been placed in service. At the present time the company is handling a large gravel contract for the Davis Construction Company which is paving the Michigan Road from New Bethel to Shelbyville. This contract amounts to 40,000 yards. Last year the company hauled 1662 car loads of live stock to the Indianapolis Union Stock Yards.

DELEGATES-AT-LARGE DOUBLED IN NUMBER AS A COMPROMISE

Fourteen, Instead of Seven, Elected by Indianapolis Republicans to National Convention

EACH TO HAVE HALF A VOTE

Original Ten Previously Selected Increased by Four to Pacify
Goodrich-Bossert Element

PRIMARY VOTE RATIFIED

Ed Jackson, Nominee for Governor,
Says Every Citizen is Entitled to Protection of Law

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Fourteen delegates-at-large to the Republican National convention were chosen by the state convention today as a compromise slate of ten delegates failed to satisfy the demands of various factions.

Each delegate will have half a vote and alternates will be dispensed with.

The increase was understood to be a move to pacify the Goodrich-Bossert faction.

The four names added to the original ten were James P. Goodrich, Winfield Durbin, Oscar Feindler of Fort Wayne, and Cornelius Richardson, (colored) of Richmond. The original ten delegates are composed of Senator Watson, State chairman
Wall, Governor Branch, Henry W.
Marshall, Lafayette editor; Former Senator Beveridge, George Lockwood of Muncie, Postmaster General
New, Mrs. Florence Riddick Boys of Plymouth, Mrs. Anna Studebaker of Carlsburg of South Bend and Ewing
Emison of Vincennes.

The convention ratified the nomination of Ed Jackson for governor in the recent primary election. Jackson, replying to the ratification, declared his opposition to radicalism in all form and said he would demand a proper respect for the law from all classes if elected governor.
"I am opposed to any bloc or special class of people. I believe every citizen is entitled to the fullest protection of the law, regardless of political affiliations, race, creed or color."

The following nominations have been made: Harold VanOrman of Evansville was nominated for lieutenant-governor on the second ballot over Ed Bush, Frank Kimmell of Lafayette and Benjamin Vanwinkle of Hartford City. VanOrman had 680 while Bush was second with 665.

Frederick Schortemeier, Indianapolis, was nominated for secretary of state and Lewis Bowman of Richmond.

MILTON PHYSICIAN LOSES CAR CONTROL

Dr. E. C. Denny Has Narrow Escape When Ford Coupe Turns
Over West of City

IS SAVED BY A WIRE FENCE

Dr. E. C. Denny of Milton, had a narrow escape this morning about 9 o'clock, when the new Ford coupe that he was driving, left the road, almost two miles west of here on the Shelbyville pike, and landed in the ditch, lying on its side on a wire fence.

Dr. Denny was alone and was enroute to Shelbyville to attend the Sixth District meeting of physicians, of which he is the secretary.

The accident happened near the Gibson farm, where the road makes a turn. It is said that Dr. Denny was attempting to reach a book in the back seat, and lost control. The fence held the car on its side, and prevented it from turning completely over. He was not injured, and the miraculous fact about the accident was that the machine was pulled up the steep grade, and not a scratch, nor broken part was found.
It required some time to get the machine out of the ditch, and the fact that the wire fence was secure, prevented a serious accident, as the machine would have continued to turn over.

Gov. Branch Asserts State Salaries
And Other Operating Expenses
Have Been Lowered

ADDRESSES THE CONVENTION

Pledges Party to Continuance of
Better Roads, Better Schools,
Better Care of Wards

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Gov.
Emmett F. Branch, in an address before the Republican State convention today, pledged the party to a continuance of a program of better roads, better schools, better care of the state's wards and necessary improvements for state institutions.

In an address bristling with figures to show the comparative cost of state government during the last two Democratic administrations and the two Republican administrations following, Branch declared the burden of state salaries and other operating expenses had been lightened under Republican leadership.

"For state operating expenses the state taxpayers paid the sum of $1-$534,254 in the last year of the Republican administration," Branch said.
"By operating expenses we mean salaries, light, heat, etc. In 1921, the first year of the present administration, you were taxed $998,200 for the same purpose. It cost the taxpayers $536,000 less for the government's operating expenses in 1921 than it did in 1916."

"The Democrats cry that our taxes are too high and lay the blame on the legislature of 1921 and 1923. It is the same cry we heard in the campaign of 1922. They fail to tell you that in the legislature of 1921 with possibly one or two exceptions, every member of senate and house every Republican and Democratic member, voted for every appropriation made. In their condemnation of the laws of 1921 they have never singled out one law they would repeal."

"You paid a little more for education, for good roads, and for the care of our wards—the feeble minded, the insane, the soldiers and soldiers, the orphans and the tubercular-in 1921."

"But when it came to paying hundreds of thousands of dollars more for salaries and state running expenses you had the right to complain and that is exactly what was handed you during the last Democratic administration."

Branch declared the total expen-

MAYOR FINDS TWO GUILTY

Accused of Dumping Trash Along a
Public Highway

Ab Horr and James Erwin were arraigned this afternoon in police court on affidavits charging them with dumping trash along a public highway. They were tried by Mayor Thomas, who found them guilty and gave them the alternate of paying the $50 fine or cleaning up the trash.
The two men stated that they had hauled a small quantity of ashes along the river front. The charge was for dumping trash in an alley between Morgan and Harrison street at the south end of the streets.

According to witnesses, the place has become a public dumping ground, and so far the officers have obtained only the two names. When other names are obtained, further arrests will be made, it was stated.

This week marks another mile-of its pioneer promoter and guiding spirit, Charles L. Henry, known to the industry as "the father of the interurban," president of the India-

Company. With his usual vigor and fighting spirit, Mr. Henry has accomplished with his lines from India-conditions. Complete re-equipment,

All Former Service Men Urged to Attend War Mothers Banquet
Even if Card is not Received

STATE LEGION HEAD TO TALK

Cards inviting former World War veterans to the banquet to be given by the War Mothers next Wednesday night, were sent out today, and a response is expected from every veteran receiving a card.

It also was pointed out today,
that possible some of the veterans had been overlooked, and that they were invited and expected to attend, without the card notice.

The banquet will be held at the Social Club rooms, Second and Morgan street, and the War Mothers are busy making plans for the banquet and program. Among the speakers to be present are Arthur Ball, state commander of the American Legion, and Frank Handley, state adjutant,
and several other prominent speakers.

The program and banquet will start at 6:30 o'clock, and the War Mothers have called attention to the fact that it is to be an open meeting, for all former service men, and not expressly for Legion members.

MANILLA HOME IS BURNED TO GROUND

Residence Owned and Occupied by
Albert Robinson Destroyed But
Household Goods Saved

Rushville Pumper Answers Call But
Danger Passes and No Water is
Thrown—Valued at $8,000

The residence owned and occupied by Albert Robinson, a tinner and plumber of Manilla, was completely destroyed by fire this morning shortly after nine o'clock, and a favorable wind prevented a disastrous fire, which would have caused considerable damage to the residential district of the town.

The house was a large two story, frame structure and was estimated to be worth $8,000. It is understood that $3,600 insurance was carried.

The blaze started in the roof, and had gained rapid headway before it was discovered. By the time that the citizens could be summoned, it was useless to make any attempt to extinguish the flames, and attention was then devoted to surrounding property and to removing the household goods.

Practically all of the household goods were taken from the burning house, and all of the canned fruit removed from the basement. A gasoline engine in the basement was removed and even the bath tub and other plumbing fixtures were taken from the house before it became too dangerous for them to work in the building.

When the fire was at its greatest height, the flying shingles, and a wind, gave cause for alarm, and a call for help was made to this city.
The pumper was sent, in charge of Leslie Downey, fireman, but soon after it had left word was received that the danger had passed.

The truck made the trip, but the dwelling was too far gone to be saved, and the surrounding property was being protected by men with buckets.

The origin of the fire was not known. It is the supposition that pigeons had nests in the top of the roof, and that a match had been carried by the birds. Mrs. Robinson was in the kitchen at the time, and was not aware of the fire until workmen at the school building, near the place, came over and spread the alarm.

A seven inch tile ditch, filled with water, ran close to the house, and

ASKS $500 ALIMONY IN SUIT

Carrie E. Flechart Wants Divorce
and Child's Custody

Carrie E. Flechart today filed suit in the circuit court against Fred A.
Flechart, asking for a divorce, support, alimony and the custody of a minor child. The complaint alleges that they were married January 22, 1921 and separated May 13, 1924.
She charges the defendant with cruel treatment, and that he on one occasion pushed her back across a table, and bruised her. She also charges that he associated with other women, and would frequently become intoxicated.

She asks for a divorce, a reasonable amount for support money, for the custody of a three-year-old child, and $500 alimony. The plaintiff resides at 511 North Arthur street, the suit says.

WOOL POOL AND GIRL'S CLUBS ARE DISCUSSED

More Than 125 Farmers Attend
Monthly Meeting of Orange Town-
ship Association at Moscow

More than 125 farmers attended the monthly meeting Wednesday night of the Orange township Farm Bureau at the church in Moscow, when an interesting community program was rendered and a business session held.

Music was furnished by a six piece orchestra. Vocal solos were rendered by Iris McKay, Erma Tevis and Louise Tumes. Bertha Cole also gave a piano solo. Readings and monologues were rendered by Mrs. Charles Holden and Mrs. Charles Owens.

Following the program, the members remained in the church auditorium and J. W. Ritter of Elkhart, one of the assistants in organizing the wheat pool, was present and explained the plan to the farmers, and several of them took advantage of the opportunity to sign the contracts.
The canvas of the township is also under way.

The women and girls were addressed in another part of the church by H. D. VanMatre, county agent, who explained the girls' club project,
and interest along this line was also shown.

DAMAGE BY FREEZE CAN'T BE ESTIMATED

Will not be Known for Several Days
Gardners Say, Whether Fruit
Was Injured

FREEZING TEMPERATURE—30

The damage done by a light freeze and heavy frost during the night early today, will not be estimated for a few days, it was stated today, but there is little doubt but that much fruit has been damaged.

Whether strawberries and other fruit that was in the blooming stage, were injured, will not be determined until the sun comes out, it was said by gardeners. If the center of the fruit blooms turn black, it is evidence that the fruit has been killed.

The temperature dropped to thirty degrees during the night, two degrees below freezing, and thin coats of ice were found this morning.

The unseasonable weather during May has been very uncomfortable and disagreeable and has been a hindrance to farmers in the planting of spring crops. A light frost was predicted for last night by the weather man, but there was no intimation of freezing temperature.

Many people are agreed that May was never so uniformly cold and productive of rain as it has been this year. Snow fell on May 9 last year but following that the temperatures were seasonable.

PARADE TO FORM AT 9 A. M.

Ceremonies at G. A. R. Monument and on Legion Lot in East Hill—
Paul McNutt Will Speak

Details for the annual Memorial Day observance in this city, have been completed, and the program outlined. The assembly will take place for the line of March May 30 at 8:45 o'clock at the court house, and the parade will march promptly at nine o'clock to the cemetery.

The procession will be headed by the American Legion firing squad and colors, followed by the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. and other auxiliaries in machines. Then will come the former World War veterans in uniform, walking, and they will be followed by school children and other fraternal and patriotic organizations.

Upon arrival at the cemetery, the ritualistic service of the G. A. R. monument will be held, in charge of the Woman's Relief corps. The people will then proceed to the hillside where the address will be delivered by Paul McNutt, head of the law department of Indiana university.

Ritualistic services also will be held here by the W. R. C. and then there will be a service at the Legion quarters in the cemetery, following by decoration of graves for the veterans of all wars.

In the afternoon in the assembly room of the court house, the program will be given in charge of the auxiliaries of the various ladies organizations.

It was stated today that the Memorial Day exercises are for all former service men, whether members of the Legion or not, and it is urged by those in charge, that a large delegation of World War veterans, in uniform, turn out for the meeting.

The observance also is for all patriotic organizations, and co-operation is urged to show respect for those who have preceded the veterans in death.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for 2 years with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better, and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MAE LEST SHERBORN, 515 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Banker Deaf for Years Now Hears Perfectly

Mr. John L. Ellerman, President of the Farmers National bank, Fairfax, South Dakota, says that after suffering from deafness for many years he can now hear the slightest whisper and is so proud and happy of his own good fortune that he wants everyone who is deaf or hard of hearing to know about it. After trying everything he could hear of without success, Mr. Ellerman finally saw the announcement of a New York firm stating that they had perfected a new hearing device called the Acousticon which would enable anyone whose auditory nerve was not entirely destroyed to hear as perfectly as those with normal hearing. As this firm offered to send their product on Ten Days Free Trial—no deposit—no C. O. D., he decided to try it. To his utter amazement and delight, he found that this remarkable invention enabled him to hear all sounds as clearly as when a boy. He has since recommended it to a number of his friends and they also report most satisfactory results. If you want to hear again as well as when a child, write the Dictograph Products Corporation, Suite 1307-C, No. 220 W. 42nd Street, New York City, and ask them to send you an Acousticon on Ten Days Free Trial. There are no strings attached to their offer. The trial is absolutely free. Just send them your name and address.

WE COMBINE QUALITY, SERVICE AND VALUE

A few years ago everybody thought that they must have country butter, nothing else was fit to eat, then came the war with high prices and many folks were compelled to use oleo, and found it was really good to eat. Just now the situation is reversed, country butter is fairly plentiful but folks have become so accustomed to oleo that they do not care for butter. Until hot weather comes we will have good country butter most of the time.

mond for auditor of state by acclamation.

Apparent peace and harmony prevailed in Republican ranks as the second day of the convention opened at 10 o'clock today.

The conference on selection of the slate of delegates-at-large appeared to have appeased all factions, even the faction of the Ku Klux Klan headed by D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana realm of the Klan.

Stephenson, who had apparently ousted Walter Bossert from the Watson bandwagon, said his support would go to the following slate for state officers:

Harold Van Orman, Evansville, lieutenant-governor; Frederick Schortemeier, Indianapolis, secretary of state; Wilbur Ryan, Muncie, attorney general; Henry Sherwood, Franklin, for superintendent of public instruction.

Ben Urban appeared the likely winner in the race for state treasurer.

Friends of former Senator Beveridge believed the Watson forces secured the Watson-for-vice-president plank in the platform in order to forestall a similar move for Beveridge.

The boom for Watson as running mate for President Coolidge was given its start when six of the thirteen district caucuses earlier in the night approved Watson's proposed candidacy.

In an all night session the platform committee wrestled with resolutions to build up a compromise platform that would meet the approval of all factions in the convention today.

The platform does not mention the Ku Klux Klan but declares that the laws must be enforced upon the high and low alike without prejudice to race, color, or creed.

This plank, coupled with Senator Watson's declaration in his keynote address that questions of religion or membership in secret organizations are not within the province of political issues, was found acceptable to the Klan.

Three hundred delegates said to be members of the Ku Klux Klan bolted district caucuses last night to attend a meeting at which a slate for state officers was agreed on.

MOVIES

"Painted People," at Princess

The screen's two most famous portrayals of mother roles have important parts in "Painted People," a comedy drama of small town life, which opens today at the Princess theatre, with Colleen Moore in the starring role.

In this gem of pathos and humor, Mary Carr, of "Over the Hill" fame, plays mother to Ben Lyon and Mary Alden is mother to Miss Moore.

"Painted People," a picturization of Richard Connell's Collier's Weekly serial, is a pleasing romance of a boy and girl who set out to make themselves worthy of wealthier sweethearts, to find, after they had become successful, that their idols had feet of clay and that in reality they have made themselves worthy for each other.

An unusually talented cast of players enact the interesting roles; the all-star aggregation comprises Colleen Moore, in the leading role; Ben Lyon, Charlotte Merriam, Charlie Murray, Anna Q. Nilsson, Sam De Grasse, Joe Striker, Mary Alden, Russell Simpson, Mary Carr, and June Elvidge.

"Painted People" is a First National picture, and was directed by Clarence Badger, who directed that famous success, "Potash and Perlmutter."

"The Bright Shawl," Castle

It was just a bright shawl.

PLATFORM SUBMITTED TO G. O. P. CONVENTION FOR RATIFICATION

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22—Without direct mention of the Ku Klux Klan or reference to the primary law the resolutions committee of the Republican convention today submitted the party platform to the convention for ratification.

The platform is substantially the same as that drawn up by a "committee of fifty" appointed some time ago by Frederick Schortemeier, secretary of the state committee.

The resolution committee added a plank endorsing Senator Watson for vice-president and modified some of the resolutions.

The platform as presented, one of the briefest presented to a state convention in recent years, contained the following planks:

NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION: Commends constructive achievements of national administration and pledges support of Indiana Republicans to the reelection of President Coolidge.

STATE ADMINISTRATION: Approves public service commission law with modifications, declares for continuance of state road building program and commends work of various state departments.

LABOR: Recommends that in all matters of government in which labor may be affected, the representatives of bona fide labor should be consulted.

AGRICULTURE: Calls for immediate state and national legislation to relieve the farmers.

TAXATION: Declares every class of property must be made to bear its just share of the burden of taxation. Opposes increasing the number of taxing districts covering the same territory by which the constitutional debt limit is in effect avoided.

BOARDS AND COMMISSIONS: Opposes the creation of additional board and commissions and favors the abolishment of every unnecessary board or commission already created.

STATE SECURITIES LAW: Pledges the party to strengthen the present securities law.

BUDGET SYSTEM: Favors continuance of the present budget system.

WOMEN: Commends Republican women for their work in the interest of the party.

PUBLIC FUNDS: Favors placing all funds received by boards or departments of the state government in the state treasury.

EDUCATION: Pledges that no reactionary steps shall be taken in the field of education.

ST. LAWRENCE RIVER PROJECT: Approves the Great-Lake-St. Lawrence waterway project.

EMBLEM: Adopts eagle as the emblem of the party.

SENATOR WATSON: Endorses Senator Watson for the Republican nomination for vice president.

NO LOCAL CANDIDATES APPLY FOR THE CAMP

No Letup in Effort of County Chairman, W. F. Easley, to Get Applicants for Camp Knox

VALUE OF SUMMER TRAINING

Although no local candidates have applied for admission to the citizens military training camp, to be held at Camp Knox, Kentucky, there is no letup in the effort by the Rush county chairman, Walter F. Easley, to induce some Rush county young men to attend.

In the past, Rush county has always been represented at the summer camp, and it is hoped that some young men will make application.

"Uncle Sam" has issued an invitation to all healthy, normal boys between the ages of 16 and 24 years, of age to spend a month at Camp Knox, in the great outdoors.

The Citizens Military Training Camps, coming at the time of the year which most parents set aside as vacation time for the boy, has solved the parents problem as to where to send him this summer. The training camp will not only satisfy his love of travel, but it will also be in the nature of an education of the most practical sort—a mental as well as physical development of the young man at an age when it is likely to be of the greatest benefit to him. All expense is paid by the government from the time the boy leaves his own home until he returns, including railroad fare, food, clothes quarters, medical and dental treatment.

But it was also the token of a great love, the messenger of death, the cloak of a spy, and in the end the harbinger of lasting happiness. It is around this dazzling garment, worn by a vivid Andalusian dancer in Havana in the days of Spanish oppression against Cuba, that the plot of the highly dramatic and romantic photoplay, "The Bright Shawl," now playing at the Castle theatre to crowded houses, is woven.

Dying from a knife wound, La Clavel, the dancer gives the shawl to Charles Abbott, young American, played by Richard Barthelmess, as a final remembrance of her affection.

In turn the bloodstained garment is found by La Pilar, female spy. She wears it to the negro dancin and its brilliance helps to lure a young Cuban patriot to his death. She kills him and throws the bright shawl over the body.

The American, after losing consciousness in a duel, awakens aboard ship to find the woman he loves and—the bright shawl. So Joseph Hergesheimer wrote it; so, too, John S. Robertson pictured it as a First National attraction—and one of the most important productions of the year.

"The Man From Wyoming"

A graphis picturization of the ancient feud of the western range country between sheepmen and cattle is presented in the Universal photodrama, "The Man from Wyoming," showing at the Mystic theatre Friday.

Jack Hoxie, the hard riding cowboy whose daring horsemanship has graced so many western films, is starred in the production, and his beautiful white saddle horse, "Scout," again figures prominently in this picture.

Hoxie plays the role of a sheep herder who gets into trouble with neighboring cattlemen and whose life is saved by the girl owner of the cattle ranch. Lillian Rich, the attractive heroine of "Man to Man," "The Kentucky Derby," and other big Universal productions, plays the role of the ranch owner.

NEW DORMITORY DEDICATED

Local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs Present for Ceremony

Local members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges have been attending the semi-annual sessions of the two orders in Indianapolis and took part in the dedication of the new $100,000 dormitory for children at the Odd Fellows home at Greensburg Wednesday.

Frank McIlwain, of this city, grand patriarch of the grand encampment, had an active part in the dedication ceremony.

As the meeting of the Indiana Rebekah assembly closed in Indianapolis Wednesday, the 68th semi-annual session of the Grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. opened, and interest centered today in the election of officers.

Seek eternal things:—We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal. 2 Corinthians 4:18.

Prayer:—Open thou our eyes, O Lord, that we may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

Odds Are Even

The odds appear to be about even now, between the president and congress, and it is time the congress close up shop and get ready for the national conventions and repair work on the political fences.

The president vetoed the bonus bill and the house and senate passed it over his veto. He likewise vetoed the omnibus pension bill and it was sustained.

In the case of the bonus bill the president, like the thrifty parent who tries to keep down expenses, said, "Our country can not afford it." The congress said, "it makes no difference; our credit is good and we can charge it."

Plenty of families, because their credit is good, are living on the policy that congress adopted in the case of the bonus. Sooner or later the families that have the habit of going over their budget will come to grief. So will the government. But congressmen voted for votes next fall, not economy in government.

The senate stood by the president and he counseled adherence to the budget and against any increase in national expenditures.

With a surplus of $300,000,000 in the treasury, it is easy to appropriate large sums to any case the desires of various groups of our citizens, even though future accumulations seem impossible, in the face of tax legislation.

The pension bill would have taken some $58,000,000 annually to meet its provisions, in addition to pension legislation already in force.

Other appropriations in excess of the budget allotments would subtract many more millions from the treasury balance.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The name "Gillett" in Massachusetts means safety in more than one sense. It means safety, also, in Republican politics.

For Frederick Huntington Gillett of Springfield who is always meant in Massachusetts when the name "Gillett" is mentioned, has a record of 16 unbroken victories in campaigns for Congress.

Being "safe" as well as "safe," it was inevitable that this long tenure should make him one of the G. O. P. powers, not only in Massachusetts but in Congress. As a result of which he has presided, as Speaker, over the last three Congresses, a dignified, proper, conservative presiding officer, such as might be expected from people Massachusetts.

NOW, however, the peaceful certainty of re-election to Congress from his home district is to be abandoned. The certainty of another term as speaker, in case a Republican Congress is elected this fall, is to be foregone in an attempt to wrest from David Ignatius Walsh, Democrat, the senatorial seat the state must fill this fall.

Instead of a gentlemanly campaign in his home city of Springfield and environs, Gillett must plunge into a statewide campaign that promises to be one of the bitterest and most bloody battles waged in New England since the Revolution.

GILLETT is not making this change wholly from choice. The cause for which he enters the senatorial fight is not a personal one. As speaker of the House he has more power and perquisites than he would have as a simple senator.

But with Calvin Coolidge, the favorite son of Massachusetts, leading the Republican national ticket this year, the possibility that Walsh, a Democrat, may win

re-election to the Senate is enough to throw G. O. P. leaders into chills and a cold sweat every time they think of it.

WILLIAM M. BUTLER, who was first elected to make the fight against Walsh, was chosen by President Coolidge to manage his election campaign. That puts him out of the senatorial race. He will have his hands full with the national campaign.

Channing Cox, Republican governor of the Bay State, was then approached. Cox thought it over and decided he didn't care for the honor.

Whereupon Frederick William Dallinger, a member of Congress from Cambridge, announced he would make the race.

DALLINGER'S announcement, however, didn't satisfy Coolidge and other party leaders. Frankly, they doubted his ability to put the odds under Walsh.

For one thing, Dallinger is an ardent and active "dry." Next to Wayne Wheeler and Upshaw of Georgia, he's the driest dry in Washington.

And while it is desired that the Massachusetts candidate for the Senate be pledged to uphold the constitution, it is not considered necessary for him to single out specifically the eighteenth amendment as the part to be upheld most zealously. Which is what they fear Dallinger would do.

ON the heels of Dallinger's announcement, Gillett was called to see Coolidge. On the heels of his White House call, he announced he would run for the Senate. Did Coolidge request it? Draw your own conclusion.

Undoubtedly, Gillett's candidacy will have the full support of the old line leadership in the G. O. P. He is the one man with whom they will feel safe. But even with Gillette, they admit, it may be a close shave.

"Plain Folks"

(Indianapolis News)

Following the eighty-fifth annual convention of the Christian churches of Indiana, at Rushville last week, Rush county has been indulging in a little self-congratulation. The Rushville Republican says that the visitors not only saw beautiful homes, got acquainted with the value of the fertile ground in which the natives take pride, and rode over the well-kept country highways, but they also must have got an understanding of what lies back of all that Rush county does. The Republican says:

"If the people of Rush county can always be as hospitable in the entertainment of visitors, as they were during the convention just closed, the county's hospitality will be a by word throughout Indiana, just as is her reputation for being the largest hog producing county in the world. We like to boast of our material achievement and tell the world about what we have accomplished, but after all, nothing is quite so gratifying as to know that our efforts have been appreciated and that we are regarded as just 'plain folks.'"

Uncle Jack Gowdy went to Paris as one of the "plain folk" of Rush county and upheld American traditions in the consular service. Some of the people were shocked when they heard that Gowdy had been appointed. They argued that he knew nothing about etiquette and that his manner was bluff. None of this criticism worried Uncle Jack. He went over to Paris and did as well as or better than the average American. The secret of Uncle Jack Gowdy's success lay in the fact that he never tried to overdo. He took Rush county hospitality as his standard and merely lived up to it. The French liked it as well as the church people enjoyed coming in contact with it last week. Being "plain folks" has gone out of fashion in a good many parts of America. If Rush county can encourage this quality and keep it alive the community will have done something worth doing—worth doing more than anything that goes back merely to material things for its basis.

Postmaster Charles A. Frazee will go to Indianapolis next Tuesday and Wednesday to attend a State meeting of the presidential postmasters.

Grant Gregg, the present city clerk, today made his announcement that he would be a candidate for re-election in the Republican nomination. He has made a good record and many friends during his administration of the office and will no doubt be one of the most formidable candidates in the field.

A spectre of the olden days, attired in new apparel, was seen in Rushville today. Remember the old court house rack, and how it was crowded every Saturday with vehicles that belonged to farmers? Time and a new court house wiped out that convenience, but it is now looming up in a different manner. Around the court house square today, where the horses formerly stood all day, over thirty automobiles had their "noses" facing the curbing.

Several members of the local Gun club participated in the tri-county shoot held at St. Paul Thursday. Charles Brooks carried away the honors in the Rush county event with Dr. Frank M. Sparks, a close second. Among the local contestants were Dr. F. M. Sparks, Ben Cox, Charles Brooks and Stewart Beale.

Houston Aultman today made his announcement that he was a candidate for city clerk, subject to the pleasure of the Republican nominating convention.

Miss Alice Norris will entertain for dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hamilton of Indianapolis. The following guests will be present: Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Mount, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ochiltree, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Frazee of Connersville, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Frazee and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Coleman of Rushville.

Misses Mary Williams and Esther Black entertained the Vesperian club at the home of Miss Williams in North Jackson street today with a six o'clock dinner. The high school Senior class colors, old gold and black were used in the decorations.

Mrs. Charles Hopkins of Lake City, Iowa, who has been visiting Rev. J. F. Cowling, left this afternoon for Springfield, Illinois.

Misses Helen Reardon and Margery Geraghty went to Muncie today to be the guest of Miss Hazel Gallagher over Sunday.

Mack Faces Another Failure

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, May 22—After a career of 30 years in any profession, during which the satisfaction of success and the disappointment of failure have been divided almost evenly it is only a game man who can retain his enthusiasm and keep plugging along and fighting for the ninth inning break in luck.

Connie Mack has been in and around professional baseball for 30 years, and fate asked of him the test that only a game heart and an enthusiastic love for his profession could attempt to meet.

Mack was a tremendous success during the middle decade of his career. He developed the Philadelphia Athletics of 10 and 15 years ago into a team that will go down on the books second only to that great old Baltimore Oriole organization.

Mack's claim for fame and great repute was represented not so much in the conquests of the team, but in the sagacity and keen judgment that he had shown in finding and developing the great stars who formed the machine on the field.

Before he had reached that point in years where his career might have been regarded as being over the hill, Mack was a recognized success, a manager pointed out as a genius and a fashion setter of a game where success follows the imitation of success in a large degree.

Right in the height of his glory, luck broke for Mack. He was plucked from the heights to the depths of baseball. Instead of being the toast of the game, the revered name of the Philadelphia Athletics became the punching bag for the wise cracks of humorists. They became the Pathetics instead of the Athletics, and the best thing that Mack's friends could say of him was that he deserved a chance to make good.

It might not have been pride, exactly, that rode Mack to his fall, but there was an exaggerated feeling of confidence, at least, behind him when, in 1914, he tore apart the great Athletic machine and declared that he would build another just as good.

He used all his building skill for 9 years, and he was unable to get his club out of the American League "cellar" or off the steps leading to the "cellar." He hunted through the same territory where he had found the stars of his old nine, but he discovered no more Collinses, Bakers, Barrys, Benders or Planks.

KEEPING ONE EYE
ON THE SCOREBOARD

Winning from the Phils 8 to 6, while the Reds were losing the Chicago Cubs moved into first place in the National League. Mogan's homer with two on put Alexander in trouble, but he pulled out.

Seven runs scored on a big rally in the seventh inning gave Brooklyn a 9 to 2 victory and dropped the Reds into second place.

Massing their attack on three pitchers, the Giants smacked out 16 hits and beat the Pirates 10 to 8.

Clark, Detroit, cast off, singled in the eighth inning and drove in the run that gave the Red Sox a 5 to 4 victory over the Tigers. It was the fifth straight victory for the Red Sox and the thirteenth out of their last 16 games.

Cruise's homer in the ninth inning with one on helped along a four run rally but the Cardinals were busy early in the game and the Braves lost 8 to 5.

PLAYER-WRITER RULEU. S. Lawn Tennis Association Draws up Plans For Fight That Will Result Over Reconsideration

COMMITTEE TO MEET JUNE 4

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
New York, May 22—Campaign plans for the fight that will result over the reconsideration of the "player-writer rule" by the United States Lawn Tennis association are now being drawn by the leaders of both factions.

George W. Wightman, president of the association, Hokecombe Ward, chairman of the amateur rule committee, which called William T. Tilden an "evil menace" to the game and Julian W. Myrick, former president of the association are to electioneer on the road in favor of the rule.

The champion, at the request of his supporters will make a tour and present his side of the country and explain his reasons why he will retire if he is not allowed to continue newspaper writing.

The executive committee of the association will not meet to June 4 to consider a recommendation that a special meeting be called to reconsider the player-writer rule and the intervening time will be spent in the accumulation of ammunition.

Edward C. Conlin, leader, the Tilden faction, said today that he would fight the purpose of the West Side Tennis club to swing all its votes against Tilden although it has been shown that the club membership is only slightly in favor of the rule.

GIBBONS PREPARING

Meets Carpenter

FRENCHMAN BOXING EQUAL

Michigan City, May 22—Tommy Gibbons, leading exponent of speed and shifty boxing, is preparing a change of pace to provide him with a jarring "Dempsey punch" when he enters the ring May 31 with Georges Carpentier.

Convinced that the Frenchman is his equal in boxing, Gibbons expects to beat him with the same medicine administered by Jack Dempsey when the world's champion took Carpentier's measure in New Jersey. Gibbons is working with big sparring partners and is shaking them with blows much harder than he has ever dealt before. He is perfecting a short jab very similar to that of Dempsey and perfecting his close-in work.

Carpentier is sparring with heavies for the first time since his arrival. He gave an impressive exhibition in two round bouts with Soldier King of Grand Rapids and Jack Taylor, negro heavyweight. Carpentier's famous "leaping right" is being exercised a lot on the sand bag around than on almost any other single form of training.

Atlanta, Ga.—Dan O'Dowd, Boston who fought Young Stribling here Tuesday night was suspended for 60 days by the Atlanta boxing commission for failing to "give his best efforts" in his battle with Stribling.

On Wednesday evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church a most delightful time was had by the young people of the church. Contests and many interesting games were enjoyed and as a closing feature the social committee served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. George Craig was hostess Wednesday to the members of the Industrial club when she entertained with a pitch-in dinner. Twenty were present and enjoyed the bountiful repast. In the afternoon a business meeting was conducted and several matters were discussed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed Spradling.

Approximately seventy five couples attended the dinner-dance given Wednesday evening at the Social Club in North Morgan street. A dinner was served preceding the dance, the division captained by Mrs. Lowell M. Green and Mrs. Lee

Endres having charge. An Indianapolis orchestra furnished splendid music for the dancers and several out-of-town guests were present.

The Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian church held a meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Bert Trabuc had charge of the meeting and the chapter study was "Children and Schools." In the discussion, the members applied the subject locally and the city nurse, Miss Mary Hollowell, gave an interesting talk on "Health of the Children in the Rushville schools." A business session was held at the conclusion of the program.

Exhibit in G. C. Wyatt & Co., Window Causes Favorable Comment

A display, showing the accomplishments of the mechanical drawing and art departments of the high school, is causing much comment, because of the remarkable manner in which the work has been done. The display is in the windows at the George C. Wyatt and Company store. The drawings are exceptional in every detail, and appear to be more professional than that of a high school pupil.

ditures of the first fiscal year, under the present administration were $9,494,000 and not $13,648,000 as had been represented. He said a total of $3,750,000 in that year was handled by the state as a matter of book-keeping and turned back to county school funds or to the different circuit and superior courts.

"The Democrats do not tell that of the $9,494,000 expended in the first year of the present administration, $2,213,000 went for the state highway system and $179,000 for the soldier memorial fund, expenses which the Democrats did not have to account for in 1916," Branch continued.

"They do not mention that in 1921 we spent $1,424,000 more for educational purposes than in 1916 and $1,350,000 more from taxes for the benefit of state wards.

"For these and other similar purposes we spent in 1921 $5,167,824 more than we spent in the last year of the Democratic administration.

"All this was necessary and went for the highest purposes. No one, be he Republican or Democrat, could object unless he be an ingrate.

"If it is not right to help the unfortunate wards of the state, to help educate our children in a degree comparable with other states, then the Republican party is wrong, and the money for these things should not have been taxed. You cannot have better roads, better schools, better teachers and better care of the unfortunate unless you pay the price."

Branch reviewed the expenditures of county, township, city and town units for the past ten years to show that there has been a similar increase in taxes in the local units, whether managed by Republicans or Democrats, due to the depreciated buying power of the dollar and the greater demands placed upon all governmental agencies.

Increased expenditures or schools, Branch said, became an absolute necessity because of the larger attendance, the longer terms of school, higher salaries for teachers and better school buildings.

Turning to the construction of the new state reformatory at Pendleton, Branch said the Democrats had made a political football of the institution and defended its construction on the grounds that the old reformatory at Jeffersonville was antiquated and in need of vast expenditures of money for repairs.

He said the "luxury" of the reformatory was a political myth and that the construction had been carried on at a minimum cost.

He said the "luxury" of the new reformatory was a political myth and that construction had been carried on at a minimum cost. Neighboring states are paying millions more for new prisons, the governor said.

Referring to good roads, Governor Branch said the state has constructed 387 miles of pavement and built outright or reclaimed more than 3,000 miles of gravel and stone roads during the two years ending Sept. 30, 1923.

"Up to date Indiana has invested $26,551,000 in its state road system, and only four cents out of every dollar collected for roads are paid on office and administration expenses," the governor continued.

"Good roads are paramount to national and state progress. Indiana is climbing out of the mud through the medium of modern highways. The state highway department is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars for a result that no one would be deprived of."

At present, the state has in its treasury $6,477,858 with outstanding loans of $2,500,000, leaving a balance of $3,978,000 the governor told the convention.

Economies in administration have been effected in various state departments and in the cost of legislation during the present administration, he said.

In concluding he urged the Republicans to have faith in a policy of expansion of the agencies of government necessary to meet the requirements of the population.

SUSPECTED AS SAFE BLOWERS

Three Held at Frankfort After Running Gun Fight

Frankfort, Ind., May 22—Three Chicago men suspected of being safe blowers were held in jail here today after a running gun battle with police and a posse of citizens.

The men, giving the names of Dan Morgan, G. W. Landy and Charles Norman, were sent to hide a safe blowing outfit consisting of saws, hammers, files, guns, torches and gas tanks under a culvert near here.

A farmer saw them hide the outfit and leave. A posse gathered and the men were ambushed when they returned.

After an exchange of shots in which no one was injured the trio surrendered. One of the men had $500 in his sock when arrested.

L. E. Brown And R. W. Sage Talk at Parent-Teacher's Meeting

A fairly good crowd attended the meeting of the Parent-Teacher's association held Tuesday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock, in the assembly room of the Graham high school. Miss Helen Jachne sang a solo and the Rev. L. E. Brown, pastor of the Main Street Christian church, gave a splendid talk on "Child Welfare". The program closed with a talk by the Rev. R. W. Sage on "The Relation of the Parent to the Child", which was also very instructive.

The manual training class of the high school also had a display of their mechanical drawings at this time, which were inspected by the parents and teachers present and much favorable comment was given on the drawings.

Modern Valjean

Ira B. Hall, like another Jean Valjean, finds himself undone by his honesty and faith. Eight years ago Hall escaped from a Georgia prison where he was under sentence for murder and, joined by his wife and family, went to live on a Florida truck farm. There he has been an exemplary citizen. Recently his daughter became engaged to marry and, feeling that his future son-in-law should be told, Hall bared his story. A few days later a sheriff arrived and returned Hall to prison. Mrs. Hall (here pictured with her baby) is pleading before the Georgia Prison Commission for his release.

Decorative

Black and white striped sateen such as this, is so decorative it itself that even cut on the simplest lines it takes on an elaborate air. Here the stripes go round on the skirt and under the arms but go up and down on the sleeves and from six wide tucks at the hem, a few steel-colored buttons and a tassel scarf are effectively used.

OLD IRIQUOIR PASSES

Chicago May 22—The Colonial theatre, scene of the Iriquois theatre fire of 1902, when 57 persons lost their lives was stripped of its furnishings today, preparatory to being torn down to make way for an office building.

In November of 1902 the Iriquois was thrown open to the public. A few months later while the place was jammed, fire broke out on the stage. A mad panic followed and nearly all the victims were trampled to death in the wild rush to escape.

Later the theatre was rebuilt and renamed the Colonial. Big business enterprises hemming in the theatre, have made the property so valuable that it was decided to turn the ground over to an office building.

Continued from Page One systems by reason of the fact that there was nothing better to be had in the single phase method of operation—there had been practically no development, therefore nothing could be done without a complete change. Furthermore, all of the other lines entering Indianapolis were 600 volt lines, so that free exchange of traffic with these lines was greatly handicapped. Along with this disadvantage the I. & C. struggled against a heavy burden of expense in trying to maintain its single phase electric equipment, which was highly susceptible to electric trouble of various kinds, resulting in numerous vexatious delays.

When the lines of the I. & C. were first built, it was the intention of its owners to extend the line to Cincinnati, but promotion of the extension has been a series of disappointments. Entrance into Cincinnati was barred for years on account of physical difficulties which apparently could not be adjusted. All city tracks in Cincinnati were broad gauge, making it impracticable for a standard gauge line to enter. Finally a rapid transit loop was planned, using the bed of the old Miami Canal, which when filled in and covered, was to provide an electric railway tunnel entrance into the heart of the city, and a bond issue of $6,000,000 was authorized by the city to build the loop. Things looked brighter for the I. & C. extension and much right-of-way was secured, the plan being to build from Rushville to College Hill through Brookville and Metamora, a district route with 63 miles to build.

Then came the World War. Estimates for the rapid transit loop had been based on pre-war costs and the money appropriated represented little more than a good start toward the actual cost. For a long time nothing was done, then plans were started to use the existing funds as far as they would go with the hope that additional levies might be made later. So the work has progressed and upwards of $4,000,000 has been expended while the loop is far from complete. That part of the loop that would provide an interurban entrance for the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company is practically finished so that it now may be possible for the extension can be financed.

Failure of the road to make its other terminus, Cincinnati, has, of course, been the principal reason for its failure to be profitable to its owners together with the difficulties already recited pertaining to its equipment.

Along with its inability to enter Cincinnati, came the economic problems growing out of the war with later hardships due to railroad and coal strikes. In the meantime came the automobile, the paved highway, the bus and the truck.

A less courageous man than Mr. Henry would have given up the struggle against such overwhelming odds, but surrender is not in his make up. Last June, he presented a financial plan to his directors for the complete re-equipment of the company's lines involving expenditure of $800,000. The directors were doubtful—then caught the enthusiasm of the pioneer railroad builder when he began to show how the job could be done. The electric railway equipment manufacturers were doubtful, then they too caught the spirit of the plan through which the road could be completely re-equipped and financed on the saving in the cost of operating over the old system. The plan took on more definite form, the money was raised, contracts were placed, work started and the re-equipment is practically complete. What appeared to be impossible has been done. And again it seems to be within the range of possibility that the extension into Cincinnati may become an established fact. The re-equipment of the company's line and change in cycle are a logical preliminary step toward the extension. The company will purchase power from the Terre Haute, Indianapolis

and Eastern Traction Company, discontinuing the operation of the Rushville Power Plant, resulting in a very large saving in power cost. Power will be transmitted to the company's nine automatic sub-stations at three phase, 33,000 volt, six cycle, where it will be turned into the trolley at 600 volts direct current. The usual railway sub-station requires an operator in continuous charge but with the automatic station no attendant is necessary.

When a car reaches that section of line served by an automatic station, the load on the line automatically starts up the rotary converter in the station which continues to run as long as there is a load on the line. When the car passes on to line served by the next station, the first station automatically stops until the next car comes along. The company has an additional automatic sub-station mounted on a standard electric railway car which can be moved to any portion of the line where additional capacity is temporarily needed or to take the place of any of the fixed sub-stations, should they be damaged by lightning or otherwise become inoperative. The automatic sub-stations are located at Hoffman, Reedville, Gwynneville, Rushville and Martin on the Connersville Division and at Wildwood, Fairland, Prescott and Adams on the Greensburg division. New, electric equipment has been installed on the company's freight motor cars and a number of new stock cars and box cars have been placed in service.
